

Wanted: Structural Design Engineer

We are chasing a Structural Design Engineer with 4+ yrs experience who is looking for a challenge, and ready to take the next step in their career.

The role is hands-on, reporting directly to our Design Director in the Brisbane Head Office.

The right person has some residential and commercial experience under their belt, and impressive technical skills, complimented by excellent communication and comprehension. REVIT experience highly preferred.

We have a range of projects on the go including subdivisions, multi-storey, etc., with 20% of our work on international projects.

Salary packaging will be highly competitive - dependent on capability, experience, and drive. Special conditions include additional paid leave between Christmas and New Year to promote work/life balance.

The opportunity is to be a part of a rapidly growing team of young, welcoming, and multi-discipline professionals delivering award winning projects all over the world.

Please get in touch with Chandler (chandlert@becollective.net), with your resume and a cover letter – or duck in anytime for a coffee. Help us get the word out!

About Us

BE Collective is a growing, award-winning, multi-discipline project management & design consultancy.

Our team is comprised of diligent passionate consultants who utilise their professional expertise to facilitate optimal Client outcomes. BE Collective maintains a rigorous approach to Continual Professional Development (CPD). In addition to the commitment required by the relevant institutes and councils, CPD targets are mandated as part each staff member's employment contract.

We challenge mediocrity and strive towards Client relationships and project team associations where a collective approach is championed in recognition of enhanced outcomes.
